

“My name is Rozaline and I’m currently pursuing a diploma in Nursing at the Masterskill University College of Health and Science. I’ve learned a great deal since being awarded the Honda Dreams Fund scholarship. One of the most valuable lessons that I’ve learned is to never give up, no matter what. It takes patience and perseverance to realise one’s dreams. In order to achieve it, we must be prepared to work hard for it and have the continuing passion to make our dreams a reality.”

“It Takes Perseverance
To Realise Our Dreams!”

Rozaline Jude
Diploma in Nursing
HDF Class of 2008

It all began with Soichiro Honda and his dream. It is that dream that has transformed Honda to what it is today; a company that produces motorcycles, cars, jets, race cars and the first Humanoid – ASIMO. In order to fulfill its social responsibility and to be recognised as a company that society wants to exist, Honda has always been actively involved in many outreach programmes. Under the Honda Global Philanthropy Initiative, the company has been contributing to the well-being of society through environment, community, humanity and education projects.
